UNITED GAS WRECKED ZR-2, SAY EXPERTS

SIXTEEN AMERICANS DIE, ONE SAVED, WHEN HUGE BLIMP EXPLODES IN AIR

LONDON, Aug. 24.—American naval officers here expressed the opinion the wreck of the ZR-2 was due to hydrogen escaping from one of the ship's gas bags being ignited by the exhaust from one of her six motors. What they say they are unable to understand, however, is how it was possible that a gas leak sufficient to make an explosion possible could have occurred without being discovered through the pressure gauge fitted to each gas bag.

One of the points which her builders repeatedly pointed out to visitors was the way in which her six motor gondolas were slung several feet from the outer shell. This, they declared, would greatly safeguard the ship from the danger of leaking gas coming in contact with the back-fire flame from a motor.

One conjecture—as to the cause of the disaster is based on the assumption that the ZR-2 might have sprung a girder while riding out the severe storm. It is said such an injury to the aluminum skeleton would be likely to injure a gas bag.

The British Air Ministry tonight issued the following report: "An Admiralty representative at Humber reports he visited the wreck of the airship ZR-2, which lies half a mile south of the corporation pier at Hull. The wreck appears to be in two portions. The whole seems to have submerged in eight feet of water. The tail portion, only is showing, lying in about four feet at half-tide. The main portion, which was the largest, is missing. Survivors escaped in a parachute and were picked up by tug and small boats. Customs officers have been ordered to guard the wreck during the night and air force officers from Howden will patrol the river in a motor launch to look out for bodies which may drift in the river."

BUCKLES IN MIDAIR. (BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) HULL (Eng.) Aug. 24.—The giant British dirigible ZR-2 (which was to be taken as the American ZR-2) near the end of her final test before being turned over to the United States government, broke in two 1000 feet over the city of Hull at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon and, set afire by the explosion of her petrol tank, fell into the Humber River.

Sixteen men and officers of the United States Navy and twenty-seven of the British officers and men aboard perished.

Norman C. Walker, a rigger, was the only American to escape. He was reported early in the night that he had died, but inquiry has established the fact he is still alive. His home is in Commerce, Tex.

The ZR-2 had been in the air thirty-four hours, having set out from Howden, in the east of Hull, early Tuesday morning. The vessel was to have landed Tuesday night at the Fulham airfield, but was prevented from so doing by bad weather. It was decided to make further tests today and the huge dirigible had spent the day in cruising.

FLASH OF LIGHTNING. Smoke curled up about the splitting envelope. A great crash fell and then a dense cloud of smoke. A flash as of lightning from a clear sky when the first of the gas balloons along the structure took fire.

TO BUILD MORE ZR-2'S. Washington Regretful but not Discouraged at Disaster to British Dirigible.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Expressions of deep regret were voiced by government officials without exception today over the destruction of the giant airship ZR-2, with a heavy loss of American and British lives. Pride in the acquisition of the new queen of the air and hopes of tremendous development in military and commercial aeronautics had lent interest to the planned-for trans-Atlantic flight of the British-built air cruiser even beyond that which it normally would have aroused.

Latest advice to the Navy Department indicated that of the seventeen members of the hand-picked American crew on board during the test, only one—Quartermaster Norman C. Walker of Commerce, Tex.—had survived. London dispatches, however, put the American loss at seventeen, declaring every American on board was lost.

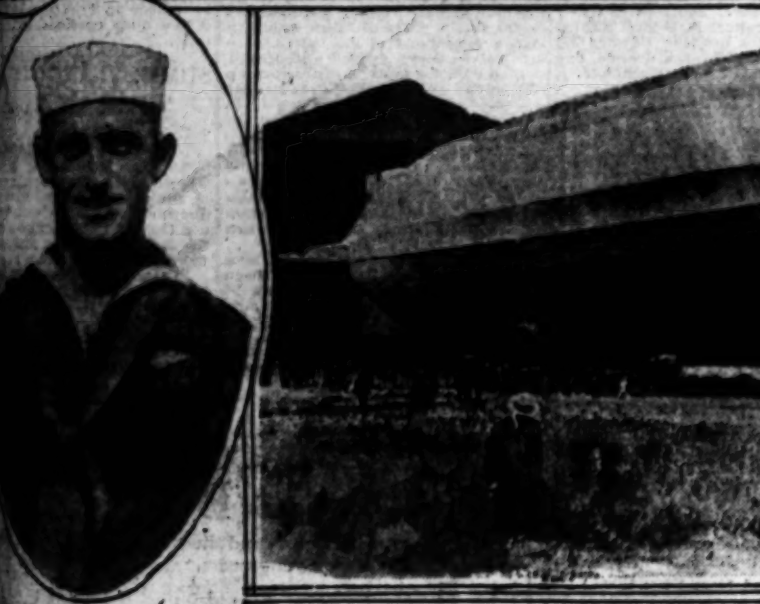

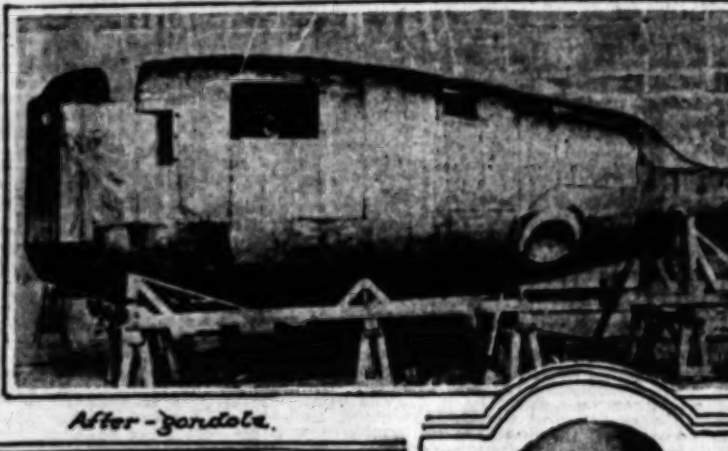

COMMENT OF DENBY. "It is a terrible thing," was the sad comment of Secretary Denby as he received cable dispatches giving details.

Mr. Denby immediately forwarded to the British Air Ministry a message expressing the Navy Department's sympathy.

The Navy Department of the United States extends to the Air Ministry and the British Navy deep sympathy in the appalling disaster to the ZR-2. The message said: "We hope our early reports will prove exaggerated as to loss of life."

Far from being discouraged by the disaster, naval aviation officials immediately prepared to seek authority for construction of a new ship of the ZR-2 type in the United States.

"We will carry on, build and operate as many ZR-2's as may be authorized by Congress," Admiral STRIKERS TIRED OF BICKERING.

Carpenters' Union Starts Back to Work Move.

Resolution Will Likely be Passed in Bay City.

Would Relieve Men of Pledges to General Conference.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A definite move to bring the building trades controversy to an end was made at the meeting of the general conference committee of the building trades unions today in a resolution introduced by Norman H. Tallentyre of the Carpenters' Union No. 4. The resolution urges all building trades unions to vote down the latest peace proposal of the Industrial Association of San Francisco and at the same time issue a declaration that the building trades strike no longer exists and that the members of all unions are privileged to return to work upon the "best terms and conditions that they can obtain."

HOT DEBATE HELD.
The resolution was presented to the membership of the general conference committee this morning and referred to the general strike committee, the adjustment committee, and the committee on resolutions. At the afternoon session of the three committees the resolution was the subject of hot debate with the majority objecting. It was finally decided to send Tallentyre's resolution back to the members of the general conference committee with a request that it be adopted.

BACK TO WORK.
The part of the resolution referring to the men returning to work says: "The members of the building trades unions are relieved of the obligations imposed on them by the general strike and the men are at liberty to return to work upon the best terms and conditions that they can obtain."

If the resolution is accepted by the membership of the general conference committee this morning a communication will be sent to all the unions of the Building Trades Council, urging its acceptance. In the debates following the introduction of this resolution the eleven international officers who participated in the Building Trades Council meeting at Tuesday night were bitterly denounced.

The balloting on the working terms set forth by the Industrial Association of San Francisco started last night. All returns will be in WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Ratification of the peace treaty with Germany without much opposition or undue delay is the prospect foreshadowed by the submission of the peace terms to the members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today.

A determined filibuster led by Senator Reed of Missouri against the Campbell-Wills anti-war bill is endangering the recess hoped for by both houses, radical drys in the House refusing to act on the Senate resolution providing for a recess until the Senate approves the bill.

Congress voted today to limit to $5000 the salaries of officials engaged by the Department of Agriculture to administer the packer bill, thereby, in the opinion of Senator Kenyon and others, "pulling the teeth" of the act and rendering it practically valueless.

Motorcycle manufacturers asked the Senate Finance Committee to reduce duties on motorcycles as an inducement to other countries to take similar action. They said they needed no protection, but desired to extend their foreign trade.

Republican Leader Mondell, in reviewing the work of the Congressional session in a speech in the House, predicted that a further revision of tax laws would be made within a year or two, with greater reductions than are possible this year.

In a new attack against the payment of a cash bonus to ex-service men, the United States Chamber of Commerce today estimated that the expenses to the government would be greater than the amount paid out in pensions during its entire existence.

PLAN NEW ORGANIZATION.
The hands of the Building Trades Council officials by noon Saturday.

Adoption of the "return to work" resolution of the general conference committee would mean that all visiting committees, scouting committees and other agencies involved in the calling of a general strike would be disbanded. No barrier will stand between the men and their jobs unless individual unions as units decide against it.

Should the men return to work, bringing building activity back to where it was on May 9, when the strike was called, the general conference committee of the building trades unions of the Bay City will automatically pass out of existence. Plans were laid yesterday by the organizers of the conference committee to create a permanent organization along the same lines, but with a more concentrated membership.

The purpose of the new organization will be to bring about a complete change in the officials of the Building Trades Council.

LIVERMORE OIL PLANT ATTACKED BY FLAMES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
LIVERMORE, Aug. 24.—Fire caused damage of more than $10,000 at the distributing station of the Union Oil Company here this afternoon.

The office building, two automobile trucks, several drums of oil and a touring car were burned. Four large storage tanks were saved by local firemen.

pass the Knox resolution before negotiating a peace treaty. The treaty should have been negotiated last March.

Asked how he happened to be in such thorough accord with the irreconcilable Republicans in their approval of a separate peace treaty, Senator Hitchcock replied: "I bow to the inevitable."

ACCEPT ALTERNATIVE.
Other Democratic members said they would still prefer the ratification of the Versailles Treaty with such reservations as might be deemed necessary, but inasmuch as his plan had been definitely rejected by the administration, the only alternative is to effect the war settlement with Germany by means of the treaty negotiated by Mr. Hughes.

The attitude of the Democratic members of the committee is deemed indicative of sufficient Democratic support to achieve the negotiating of a peace treaty with Germany and the United States under the status of relations between the two countries.

The signing of the treaty by the negotiators will not change the existing status of relations between Germany and the United States under the status of relations between the two countries.

Senator Williams of Mississippi was the only Democratic member who evinced a spirit of opposition during the meeting of the committee. He questioned Mr. Hughes closely on a multitude of details, and the Secretary entered into full explanations.

It was disclosed during the colloquy that the Allied powers had been informed of the purpose of the United States to enter into a separate peace treaty with Germany, whose resources they largely control, and they had raised no objections.

REPUBLICANS ELATED.
Senators Lodge, Knox, McCormick and other Republican members of the committee were elated by the successful negotiation of a treaty in conformity with the provisions of the Knox-Porter resolution terminating the war. Senator Borah reserved comment.

Secretary Hughes said he would make the text of the treaty public as soon as notified of the signing of the pact in Berlin.

The treaty provides for the resumption of diplomatic and commercial relations between the two countries, awards the United States the fruits of victory specified in the Versailles Treaty, and provides for the payment by Germany of American war damage claims. Germany accords to the United States all the benefits which America would have derived from the Versailles Treaty, and such benefits are specified in the Hughes treaty by citation of the particular provisions of the Versailles Treaty. A similar treaty has been negotiated with Austria.

The signing of the treaty by the negotiators will not change the existing status of relations between Germany and the United States under the status of relations between the two countries.

Income tax exemption provisions pertaining to Liberty Bonds will not be affected by the signing of the treaty, but by the formal re-establishment of relations upon the exchange of ratifications.

UNEXPECTED DELAY.
BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.
BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The peace treaty between the United States and Germany was not signed today as had been intended.

The delay was caused from an unexpected technical point raised in connection with the formalities as required by the Knox-Porter resolution. The United States commissioner, and Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the German Foreign Minister, yesterday. The ceremony of signing was to have occurred at noon today at the Foreign Office, but it was postponed at the request of Mr. Rosen.

PEOPLE SEEK SHELTER.
Apprehension now got the better of the people in the streets and on the docks of Hull and in a panic they began to seek shelter before the levithan fell among them. The air suddenly was permeated by fire and the city was shaken by a tremendous explosion followed by the tinkling of thousands of window panes.

The airship now had broken in two parts and was drifting across the Humber toward New Holland on the Lincolnshire shore. Some of the gondolas had become detached from their fastenings and fell heavily into the broad river. Several men now were seen jumping overboard.

RECURS DEATH.
The stern section of the ZR-2 fell in a sand bank exposed at low tide. The bow fell into the river. A second phase of fire and smoke of explosion shook the city. Although parts of the airship continued to float on the surface of the water, indicating the presence of still more of the explosive hydrogen gas, tugs and launches started out from the Hull piers to rescue those who had survived the catastrophe. Daring seamen climbed out on the still floating framework and pulled into their boats the bodies of the airmen, whether living or dead. These were rushed to hospitals ashore.

The boats could not reach the stern portion on the sand bank but managed to reach the survivors from the water.

The portion of the former ZR-2 out in the Humber gradually sank below the water. On the sand bank the rest of the former pride of the air is burning up.

VOICES CRITICISMS OF LARGE DIRIGIBLES.
Virgil Moore, youthful aviation inventor and instructor of El Centro, a life member of the Aero Club of Southern California, declared yesterday that the consensus of opinion of aerial experts was against large craft, especially of the lighter-than-air type.

"There has been little success with dirigibles," he said. "You will recall the disaster at Chicago several years ago when the pony blimp fell. Machines that carry one ton are about the limit, either airplanes or dirigibles. With larger machines it is impossible to get enough insurance, and the companies will not insure dirigibles at all. This is because the danger of explosion is too great on account of the gas bags."

ANGELENOS IN TRAIN WRECK.

Denver, Rio Grande Passenger Plunges into Creek.

Colorado Bridge is Weakened by Washouts.

Two Persons Killed and More Than Fifty Injured.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) Aug. 24.—Two persons were killed and more than fifty injured early today when Denver and Rio Grande western passenger train No. 1, west-bound, plunged through a bridge into a creek at Gale, near here.

The dead are: Douglas Armstrong, engineer, Grand Junction, and William Redfern, 52, La Habra, Cal. Redfern was a passenger.

BRIDGE WEAKENED.
The wreck was due to a washout which had damaged the bridge. It was said tonight that most of the fifty persons injured would be able to continue their journey or return to their homes by tomorrow, although a few, who suffered internal injuries and severe cuts and burns, were said to be in a serious condition.

The wrecked train left Denver at 1:10 o'clock yesterday morning and was en route to Salt Lake City. It was carrying passengers from nearly every State in the Union. Among the injured are:

ANGELENOS INJURED.
Emily H. Miller, 1885 Ramona avenue, Pasadena, Cal., face slightly bruised; Ida Bailey, 1484 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, head bruised; Mrs. Albert B. George, 1183 West Thirtieth street, Los Angeles, neck and head hurt; W. H. Clark, Bakersfield, Cal., head bruised; F. O. Stillinger, Pomona, Cal., neck and head hurt; Mrs. R. V. Stevenson, Brooklyn, Mich., back wrenched; Mrs. M. Fay King, 1089 First street, Jackson, Mich., head bruised; Joseph D. Craig, 175 Winfield avenue, San Francisco, broken nose and scratches; G. S. Hesley, 18 Clay street, San Francisco, hurt internally; Fred Kinkade, Layton, Utah, head, hip and knee bruised; Mrs. E. W. Bosley, Douglas, Long Beach, N. Y., head hurt; Mrs. Y. Y. Olesbee, Scott City, Kan., head hurt; Francis R. Moore, Hager, Neb., four ribs broken; Edwin J. Hammer, 6603 Eleventh avenue, Seattle, Wash., left arm wrenched.

COLLEGE BOYS HEROES.
The life of William F. Linkins, Grand Junction, probably was saved by two college boys, Stanley Clark and Norman Munson, both 26 years old, who were on their way from their homes in Burlington Vt., to Berkeley, Cal., where they are to enter the University of California this fall. The young men riding on the tender, due to the kindness of the engineer and fireman, Thomas, who was taking a nap when the crash came, but awoke and jumped in time to save their lives.

Both young men began saving victims of the wreck hours before themselves. They pulled Fireman Linkins out from under burning wreckage. Then they put out a fire in the mail car. After that they gathered up registered mail that had been scattered in every direction and restored it to a mail clerk.

rose, the bow sagged, and there seemed to be a crumpling ambivalence. The explosions of the motors increased in speed and loudness. The rushing thousands became uneasy. The distortion of the immense envelop grew more alarming.

Suddenly the figures of men became visible on the rails of the gondolas. Some of these figures hurled themselves from the airship; two parachutes opened out behind them. To one of the parachutes three men were clinging. The airship now was about 200 feet over the big corner station pier of Hull harbor and drifting toward the harbor.

AIRSHIP ECLIPSED R-34.

ZR-2 Was Forty-one Feet Longer Than Earliest and Had Greater Radius.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The ZR-2 was considerably more powerful than the R-34, which was the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic. She also had a greater cruising radius. The R-34 also had been avoided in the new craft, which was

It also had a gas capacity of 3,000,000 cubic feet, as compared with the R-34's 2,000,000; a total horsepower of 2100, as compared with the R-34's 1500; and a cruising endurance of 6000 miles at sixty miles an hour, as compared with the R-34's 4000 miles at sixty miles an hour. A complete comparison of the two airships follows:

Capacity (cubic feet)	2,900,000
Length (feet)	411
Diameter (feet)	41
Total lift (tons)	100
Engines (number)	12
Engines (horsepower)	2100

Officers and crew (men)	10
Gasoline supply (gallons)	1000

—Estimated.
Aboard the R-34's gondolas, the five cars suspended from the airship's framework, the living conditions were not so comfortable as provided on the ZR-2. The R-34, however, had sleeping accommodations for the officers and crew and electrical apparatus whereby meals could be cooked. Hot water was obtained from the radiators on the motors. All the gondolas were inclosed and the men were able to keep warmer than if they had been trying in air balloons. A wireless set in the forward car with a range of about 1500 miles enabled the R-34 to keep in touch with the shore almost the entire way across. A still stronger apparatus had been installed in the ZR-2.

Seen in flight the ZR-2 closely resembled her sister ship, the R-34, but her improvements were concealed amid a bewildering confusion of aluminum girders, rows of gasoline and water tanks, acres of fabric gas bags and a miscellany of guy wires, control valves, pipes, switches and hinges.

A telephone system connected up the entire ship to that Commander Macfield, standing at the wheel in his cabin, had every part under his direct and immediate control. Comfortable bunks were provided for the off-duty of the thirty officers and men, instead of hammocks, as provided on the R-34. Warm meals were also made possible by a system of cooking over engine exhaust heat.

Electric lights were freely provided and the ZR-2 had been equipped with a device that would enable her to moor at a mooring mast, and replenish her gas, oil, water and fuel containers near shore.

BODY OF OHIO MAN IS TAKEN FROM WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The body of a man, identified as a Londoner, taken from the wreck of the ZR-2, was a native of Ohio, was 30 years of age, and was enrolled in the United States Army in 1918 and had active duty continuing at the time.

ANGELENOS IN CREW OF LOST BLIMP.
William Julius and Ralph Jones Belonged With ZR-2; Latter's Mother Sanguine.

Two men from Los Angeles were members of the crew of the dirigible ZR-2, which exploded in England, yesterday. They are Ralph Jones, chief machinist's mate, whose mother lives at 1549 East Fifty-fifth street, and William Julius, chief machinist's mate, the son of Mrs. Freda Julius of 441 West Seventy-seventh street. Mr. Julius is listed as missing. Apparently Mr. Jones did not go up on the ill-fated trip.

Julius was a naval reserve man during the war and trained at San Diego, serving first in the hydroplane section of the Navy Air Service, and later transferred to the lighter-than-air section. His wife, who went to England with him more than a year ago, became a mother just three weeks ago, it was learned.

No official word in regard to the ZR-2 accident has reached Mrs. O. E. Bowen of 1549 East Fifty-fifth street late last night. Mrs. Bowen is the mother of Chief Machinist's Mate Jones.

The first intimation of the disaster was conveyed to Mrs. Bowen yesterday by a Times reporter. A recent letter from her son, who has been in England since June, 1920, informed her, she said, that he had recently been promoted from the rank of machinist's mate, first class, to that of chief machinist's mate, and that last June 22 he had married an English girl.

Mrs. Bowen declares she will refuse to become alarmed about her son until she receives some official word.

"Ralph was with the Naval Reserve during the war, and when the armistice was signed he got his discharge and immediately enlisted in the Regular Navy, going in for aeronautics. His advancement has been rapid because he learned very fast," the mother said.

"A year ago last June he was sent to New York and from there to England to watch the construction of the ZR-2, so that when the ship was completed, he would be familiar with all its details."

"He wrote recently that he would start home soon in the big dirigible and urged me to come to New York to greet him when he landed. I guess that is all off now, and if he is safe and does come home, it will be on a regular ship."

"Just last June he was married to an English girl. I do not know her name, nor have I heard from her directly. But I am sure that Ralph selects for his wife must be all right."

Mrs. Bowen has another son, Edward Jones, in the Army. He is stationed at Fort MacArthur.

The R-34 was the first dirigible to be built in the new craft, which was a ship and seven feet greater in diameter than the R-33. It was a masterpiece of engineering, a 2,700,000 cubic foot, 600-ton dirigible, with a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour, and a range of 10,000 miles. It was the largest dirigible ever built, and the first to be built in the new craft. DANIELS KNEW BLIMP DEFECT?
Ordered Dirigibles Despite Warning, is Charge.
Local Expert Gives Theory of Disaster Cause.
Says New and Osborne Joined Him in Protests.

The disaster of the ZR-2 in England yesterday was caused by inherent defects which were known by Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, at the time that he authorized the purchase of the giant dirigible by the United States.

Such was the statement made yesterday by Charlesmarie Sirch, E.E., a former member of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics and who has taken a very active part in the progress of dirigibles for the last twenty-five years.

Mr. Sirch, who has offices in the Lankershim Building, 128 West Third Street, also stated that following the announcement of the proposed purchase of the ZR-2 by this government, he wrote letters to various officials in Washington pointing out the defects of such a type of rigid ship and that U. S. Senator New and Congressman Osborne supported him in his protest. Regarding these protests, the proposed purchase was authorized by the Secretary of the Navy.

ZEPPELIN TYPE.
The ZR-2 was a dirigible of the Zeppelin type. In his letter to Congressman Osborne dated Oct. 25, 1919, Mr. Sirch stated:

"We have nothing to learn from England in the matter of rigid dirigibles. Their ship is not a design but a makeshift built by Zeppelin, who was not an engineer. There are inherent defects in the Zeppelin. There is no question that my design will be used in the future as a logically the highest development. But that does not do us any good now and the highest authorities, commercial and otherwise, are urging us to race England to get the supremacy, particularly for South American trade."

Mr. Sirch, in a letter forwarded to Senator New, in October, 1919, stated:

"I agree with you that it is inadvisable for our Navy Department to place an order in England for a rigid dirigible. We ought to give our own inventors and designers the opportunity to develop dirigibles and we ought to give them every encouragement toward this end."

DANIELS WARNED.
"Secretary Daniels had his attention called to the inherent defects in that type of ship," Mr. Sirch said. "He also was told American shops and materials were admitted to be superior. As an example, Germany is now adopting American machine-made practice."

"Against the protests of myself, Senator New and Congressman Osborne, Secretary Daniels and Admiral Taylor placed this order for a rigid dirigible abroad."

As far back as 1911, Mr. Sirch was endeavoring to point out the inferiority of the Zeppelin type of rigid dirigible to the American type.

"The ZR-2 was built of aluminum," he said. "Aluminum is not a strong structural metal. Weight for weight, steel is much stronger than aluminum. It is also 90 per cent cheaper. The Zeppelin type, of which the ZR-2 was constructed, is built of a framework of beams, extending the length of the ship. These beams are not riveted, they are made of four corner pieces with struts running around them, and all riveted. They are braced by cross-rings and wire cross-braces, which divide the framework into compartments, in each of which there is a common balloon."

"The engines and propellers are amidships, projected out from the side of the cars or gondolas in truss work. The transmission from the engine is by shaft drive."

ZEPPELIN FAULT.
"It has been the fault of all the Zeppelins that the framework tends to bend or sag at the top amidships. This is caused by the fact that the propellers are not located in this position there is a great strain at the bow, which of course, exerts a tremendous recovery amidships so that it bends the beams."

"During the earlier hours of its last flight, the ZR-2 narrowly escaped running into a storm. According to Mr. Sirch, even if lightning had flashed in the sky as distant as fifty miles away it would have caused the explosion that wrecked the great ship."

"Lightning is an electrical discharge of a high frequency current. And yet its inductive effects are little known even to the electrical engineer. That a powerful current can be induced in a dead wire or a metallic structure, or even a non-metallic structure, is not generally known, and yet it is to this phenomenon that the forks or pranks of lightning are due."

DREADLY FREAK.
"Lightning may strike an object, inflicting no damage, worth mentioning, and yet a person or an object some distance away may be shattered by an induced charge."

"The aluminum framework of the ZR-2 contained many circular parts capable of generating such an induced current during the storm. While the loops were riveted, it is known that the oxide which forms on the surface of the aluminum insulates the metal against electrical currents of low potential; a high potential discharge, however, would jump across this insulation, causing a spark, and as this framework was always surrounded by free hydrogen, it is very probable that the explosion may be traceable to this phenomenon."

DANIELS KNEW AMERICANS ON ZR-2 DEAD.

Monarch of Air is Crumpled into a Mass of Wreckage in Explosion.

from the explosion of the gasoline tank. Hull stood stunned for an instant at the shock and horror of this awful disaster in the sky above their city, their neighborhood, themselves, bade fare to share in the destruction as the blazing furnace descended upon them.

In the last moment of the ship's existence a brave, cool man, trained to face death, was executed with the same rapidity and experience. That order turned R-33. In these last seconds she could at respond to his order, and she did so, her course as a wreck was over the Humber and away from shore.

Her column of smoke and flame fell into the river, some of them on the end of the Victoria pier, the corporation docks.

Capt. Wann is given credit for that final order. He was rescued injured, but not dangerously.

When the huge cloud of dense smoke burst from the ship it was thought some one was sending out a smoke cloud as a trial exhibition, but to the horror of the thousands of onlookers the body of the ship appeared to be broken and the tower a tremendous nose dive and seemed to be falling on the thronged streets of the city.

Simultaneously a terrific explosion was heard, and plate-glass windows everywhere were shattered by the concussion. It was a horrifying moment for those standing in the streets, and there was a great rush for cover.

It seemed certain a second catastrophe would occur when the ship, already burning, touched the earth. Almost miraculously, however, the great airship turned toward the corporation docks and the Humber, where she fell a burning mass, three members of her crew being killed.

Flames of the wreckage and burning gasoline on the water made it difficult for tugs to approach the wreckage. The ship burned for five, until sometime after the disaster.

Some of the flames were hatting by the huge splash caused by the dropping of the tail of the ship.

ZR-2 WORLD'S LARGEST CRAFT.

Giant Dirigible Was 695 Feet Long, 85 Diameter.

Was Capable of Making 6000-Mile Flight.

Contract Price of $2,000,000 Not Yet Paid.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.) LONDON, Aug. 24.—When the ZR-2 started on her trial flight from Howden Tuesday she had on board Commander Louie Blériot, of the United States Navy, who has been designated by the American Navy Department to bring the ZR-2 from England to the United States; Brig.-Gen. S. M. Maitland, the British Air Marshal; Col. Campbell, who supervised the work of designing the dirigible, five other American officers, seven engineers and four riggers, in addition to the regular British crew.

LARGEST EVER BUILT. The ZR-2 was the largest dirigible ever built, the dimensions being as follows: Length 695 feet, diameter eighty-five feet, capacity, 2,700,000 cubic feet, total lifting capacity eighty-three tons.

The aircraft was operated by six engines. She was estimated to have a cruising speed of sixty miles an hour, giving a capacity to make an aggregate of 6000 miles of uninterrupted flight. She had a capacity for officers and crew of forty-two men. The gasoline supply was 10,900 gallons. It was estimated that she would cross the Atlantic in seventy-two hours.

The huge aircraft had four gondolas suspended from the framework. These provided sleeping accommodations for the officers and crew and an electrical apparatus for cooking. Her wireless set was expected to keep the monster craft in touch with both shores of the Atlantic and to have a radius exceeding 2500 miles.

TENDENCY TO "HUMP." A London dispatch of Sunday last quoted the observer as asserting that during the first trials of the ZR-2 a tendency of the giant dirigible to "hump" developed and that an inspection revealed the fact that certain girders had bent and that the lattice work had buckled under the strain.

Medical measures were taken, the newspaper said, including considerable reinforcement of the framework. Some much of the airship's length, in addition to the structural trouble the observer asserted the ZR-2 had been handicapped by engine difficulties.

The purchase price of the ZR-2 was to be $2,000,000. This, it is assumed, was to become effective after the aircraft had completed her trials and was delivered to and accepted by the American authorities. (The British builders and the air service had been careful to avoid a premature delivery, as they had wished to be assured that everything connected with the structural arrangements of the dirigible was in satisfactory condition. It was for this reason chiefly that the flight which terminated so disastrously today was begun. The monetary loss, under the circumstances, apparently falls on the contractors and those instrumental in building the ship.)

L.W.W. FOUND GUILTY. (BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.) HURON (S. D.) Aug. 24.—Frank Graslinski, member of the L.W.W., was convicted in the County Circuit Court here of manslaughter in the engine exhaust into contact with the murder of W. D. Henderson, an ex-soldier, at Woolsey, S. D., July 15.

THE engine, the crash, the trial and the latter are being criticized at Grosvenor's Pub and Restaurant at 411 North Spring.

ness developed, similar to that recently reported officially by American observers, rupturing the envelope so as to bring the hot gases of the engine exhaust into contact with the hydrogen, or that a buckling of structural braces might have punctured the fuel containers, permitting the escaping gasoline to come into contact with the exhaust lines.

Another possible cause of the accident, but considered remote, involved a buckling of structural braces over or near one of the six "power eggs" which carried the 250-horse engines.

The report of July 15 describing the accident of the day before pointed out that the ship was able to stay aloft more than four hours while the crew made an examination. "From a cause as yet undetermined," the report said, "two intermediate transverse frames and an intermediate longitudinal frame buckled just aft of frame seven."

Repairs were immediately made and structural parts similar to those which failed were strengthened, a subsequent report said, suggesting that damage had been caused by overloading one section during the process of construction.

Although the ZR-2 had not been accepted formally, under the contract with the British Air Ministry, several payments had been made by the United States toward the cost of construction.

It was estimated at the Navy Department that these payments might total $1,500,000 or three-fourths of the total cost. Under law and by naval custom no material or vessel ever is considered to be within the jurisdiction of the department until it has been finally passed by inspectors or completed prescribed tests and formally turned over. Under this rule, title to the ZR-2 would be considered to have been wholly with the British owners today, naval officials said.

A clause in the purchase contract provided, that in the event of loss of the ship during her flight to the United States, each party to the tract would assume half the cost of construction.

"SOME JUMPED BUT I STUCK."

British Survivor of Crew of ZR-2 Says Most Had No Chance.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.) LONDON, Aug. 25.—Ernest Davies, a British member of the crew of the ZR-2, who was saved, in an interview with the London Times at Hull, said:

"We had a terrible time. It was all over in a moment. The petrol tanks exploded and volumes of smoke and fire issued from the ship. 'Some of the men jumped, but I stuck to the ship and went down with the stern section, which struck a sand bank, from which I was rescued."

"Some of the boat fellows had no chance whatever, especially in the control car."

TRAIL OF THE MARK.

Los Angeles May Soon Be World's Greatest Shipper of Marble; Banking Position Strong.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

In addition to her other titles and distinctions Los Angeles is about to become the world's outlet for what is said to be the finest marble deposit in the United States.

Louis H. Dappich, managing director of the Inyo Marble Company, is reported in the Commercial News to have announced the reopening of the Inyo quarries after a lapse of fifteen years.

The capacity of the quarry equipment will produce 800,000 cubic feet of marble a year, which will make California the greatest marble producing State in the Union. A market is said to be already assured in the East and rates will soon be obtained for water shipment of the output.

The deposits are more than six miles long and cover more than 3500 acres. Charles H. Hillgartner, president of the Hillgartner Marble Works of Baltimore, who has recently made an inspection of the property, is quoted as saying that marble from the Inyo quarries is equal to that of the Carrara quarries in Italy, and that its color and texture are equal to that of the Carrara quarries in Italy, and that its color and texture are equal to that of the Carrara quarries in Italy.

There is a growing demand for American marble, not only in this country, but in the Orient and Canada. Shipments of marble from the Pacific Coast have developed so rapidly in the past few years that it will be a comparatively easy task to deliver this product anywhere in the world.

New York architects are said to have agreed to specify Inyo marble, and heavy shipments are anticipated as soon as the plant machinery for an increased output has been installed.

THE LEMON SITUATION.

Last winter when the East was being flooded with Italian fruit, and the California grower was protectionless and faced by ruinous competition and high freight rates, he threw up his hands in disgust and scrapped the crop. Thousands of tons of high-grade lemons were carried to dumping grounds and left to rot, and other thousands of tons were left on the trees or ploughed under. Lemons were the cheapest commodity on the market, practically without value.

A few far-seeing wiseacres failed to join in the procession. They anticipated the time when a thirsty East would call for its "lemons" and European cargoes were no longer being received. These growers picked and stored their fruit and now they are reaping the reward for lemons are in strong demand at an excellent profit even in the face of high transportation charges.

The Commercial National Bank of Upland, has caused to be prepared a series of charts from a study of which it appears that the selling price of lemons goes through a regular cycle of high to low each year, and the low periods usually appear from December to May and the high from June to August.

There are a few exceptions to this rule. For instance, during the season of 1912-13 a high point was reached in February, due to the freeze. Again in the seasons 1914-15 and 1915-16 a high point was reached during the period when a high price should have been received. This was due to a very cold summer in the East.

United States weather records show that the temperature was only above the average summer normal twice during these particular summers. The effect of the influenza epidemic is shown by the high prices obtained in October for the season of 1918-19 and again in January of 1919-20.

Prices are still rising and the outlook is bright. It is reasonable to assume that the new tariff will provide the protection sought and that the harvesting experience of last year will be repeated. The citrus fruit in the southern part of the State is reported in splendid condition at this time.

Course of German Finance Closely Watched; Sentiment Affected By Export Trade Conditions.

BY ALEXANDER DANA ROYER.

Financial Editor New York "Times."

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The further decline today in the principal industrial stocks, which at times affected some of the railway shares also, indicated the same governing influences as have now prevailed for several weeks.

Financial sentiment has certainly been affected by the confusing results of the collapsed speculation in the trade and produce of countries to the south of the United States. The hesitancy of the investing community has made the market more susceptible to speculative attacks. The opportunity has not been missed; the present operations for the decline have been very successful. The attitude of the general public.

Foreign exchange was uniformly stronger today. Sterling went to a higher rate than has been reached on any day since the spectacular 12-cent rise of Monday, August 8, and the dollar advanced to 19.15.

The future course of the German mark will doubtless be watched with special interest in connection with the recurrent reports of the increase in Germany's export trade. Some of these are plainly extravagant, such as the Pittsburgh rumor of 1,600,000 tons of German steel under negotiation for import into this country.

In the full twelve-month period ending last June, our entire importation of all kinds of goods from Germany was only 1,669,000 tons, as against an average of 479,000 in 1913. Germany has, in fact, lost nearly 40 per cent of her steel-making capacity through the war.

No change in the industrial condition is shown in the midweek review of the steel trade.

BUSINESS NEWS.

A quiet day in all financial centers. The bears continued to control the stock markets. Logan & Bryan's closing letter says, "The element believing in lower prices have derived considerable encouragement from the apparent indifference of the market to the prospect of a constructive character."

But we believe that the market is in a position, technically at least, to respond to any fresh developments of a constructive character.

Four earnings statements of the big copper-producing companies related in selling operations in most of the red metal shares, while the belief that Congress would recess without passing the tariff bill also found reflection.

Rumors that water had appeared in the Central American pool in Mexico did not do much towards sustaining the oil stocks, so that altogether it was rather a disappointing day in speculative circles.

On the Los Angeles exchange the home industries were the bright spots of an otherwise gloomy market led by Los Angeles Investment, which sold up to a high of 11.00, reacting to close at 10.85 cents bid.

Goodyear Textile moved at 80.00, bringing this stock up to the highest for the year and a half, although no sales in the latter were recorded.

The unions were weak. Delaney establishing a new low at 12.12. Union of California opened at 12.00 and sold at 12.00, closing at 12.00.

General Petroleum was steady at 11.00, and Jack Oil at 14 cents. Fifty-five shares of Globe Grain & Milling went over at 90.00. A few shares of the largely professional, the floor impression seemed to be, however, that the turning point is not far away.

Among the day's developments, of large, which had more or less effect upon the market, was the announcement of a resumption of dividends on Coca Cola preferred; a statement credited to Chief Engineer on the Engineers' Brotherhood, that a referendum on the wage dispute may not be necessary; the expected signing of the United States peace treaty by Germany with financial consideration to come up later; Obregon's belief that a settlement of the Mexican oil dispute will be reached at the forthcoming conference with the heads of the various companies at interest; and the thirty-day Congressional recess.

The average price of twenty industrial was 64.33, a decline of .13 per cent. Twenty rails, 70.73, off .44 per cent.

There is an interesting gathering of men representing important financial interests on the other side of the Atlantic, which is causing the dolesters some unrest. The latest to announce his intention of joining the group is Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, who will sail on September 2. Mr. Mitchell says he is going on business.

The list of bankers now in Europe includes J. P. Morgan, Otto H. Kahn, Paul Warburg, Pierre Jay of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, Frank A. Vanderlip, James Speyer and Jerome H. Handler.

EASTERN MUNICIPAL.

The local municipal bond market is due for a sudden rise if the trend of prices of municipals in the East is followed here. Yesterday $1,444,800 Mercer county, Pennsylvania, 5% per cent road bonds, due 1934-40, were offered at prices to yield 5 1/2 per cent; $400,000 Niagara Falls, N. Y., 5 1/2 per cent bonds, due from 1925 to 1931, were also offered at prices to yield 5 1/2 per cent; $1,000,000 Erie, Pa., 5 1/2 per cent bonds, due from 1925 to 1931, were also offered at prices to yield 5 1/2 per cent; $1,000,000 Erie, Pa., 5 1/2 per cent bonds, due from 1925 to 1931, were also offered at prices to yield 5 1/2 per cent.

GAS ENGINE BONDS.

Clavin & Miller, and Carstens & Carstens are offering $500,000 Standard Gas Engine Company first mortgage 5 1/2 per cent sinking fund ten-year gold bonds. The issue is secured by a first mortgage on the property of the company, consisting principally of its Oakland factory, which has been conservatively appraised at over twice the amount of the issue.

A sinking fund will retire at 100 and interest, $15,000 per value of the bonds each year from March 1, 1925, to 1935, inclusive, to be called by lot by the trustee. The bonds are offered at par to yield 5 1/2 per cent, depending upon the year in which the bonds are called for payment.

INCREASED EARNINGS.

The J. C. Penney Company reports the slight increase of 35 per cent in its July sales over its sales in July, 1920. Sales for the year to date represent an increase of 24 per cent over the same period last year.

The Timken-Detroit Axle Company's statement for the second quarter of this year showed that its sales were the best since September, 1920, and had increased more than 50 per cent over the first quarter of 1921. The Froctor & Gamble Company has just reported that while its total amount of business during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, is materially less than last year, due to decreased values, the actual reduction in weight of the merchandise sold is only 13 per cent.

Accept Invitation to Attend Disarmament Meet.

Hope Agenda Will be Fixed
Prior to Meet.

Want All Established Facts in Background.

[BY A. P. KNIGHT WEEK.]
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Japan's "heart and appreciative acceptance" of President Harding's invitation to participate in the Washington disarmament and Far Eastern conference was expressed in a note re-

The Japanese government in accepting the invitation, however, expressed the hope that the agenda of the Far Eastern conference would be arranged prior to the meeting, in accordance with its suggestion, that matters concerning only a few na-

TEXT OF ANSWER.

The text of the Japanese note follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 13th of this month, in which you intimate the gratification of the President of the United States at the cordial response which has been accorded to this suggestion of a conference on the subjects of limitation of armament and cognate topics, and in which you communicate the President's invitation to this government to participate in such a conference to be held in Washington on the eleventh of

"In communicating to you for transmission to the President the hearty and appreciative acceptance of this invitation by the Japanese government, I would ask you to be good enough in the first place to say to Mr. Hagdine with what pleasure

THE government sees him take the initiative in this all-important matter; his great office, the Pacific traditions of your republic and his own high personal qualifications invest his act with a personal appropriateness which must be universally felt and recognised.

IDEA IS WELCOMED.

"The peace of the world has long been a chronic object of solicitude to the Japanese government and people. That attitude has not remained a platonic policy—it has been followed out in action. It results naturally from this pacific attitude toward world problems, that government and people alike should welcome the idea of the limitation

"This government is also completely sympathetic to the valuable suggestion advanced in your note, that it may well be desirable that the use of novel agencies of warfare

"The discussion and removal of any causes of misunderstanding which may exist, and the arrival at an eventual agreement with regard to general principles and their application which will insure friendship and good mutual understanding between the nations, are regarded as of great value and importance. My government would emphasize the pre-eminent vital interest which Japan has in the preservation of the peace of the Pacific and the Far East.

ENTIRELY IN ACCORD.

"She has devoted her utmost efforts toward securing its permanence and its maintenance might well be to her a matter of prime concern.

he therefore, finds it accordant entirely with her in most desires, to reach in conference a measure of understanding which shall insure peace being placed once for all upon permanent basis in these regions. It is earnestly hoped, therefore, in Spain, that the conference will secure really useful results and prove practical success.

The Japanese government gladly concur in the proposal of the United States that the scope of the discussion of the Pacific and Far Eastern problems shall be made the subjects for a free exchange of views prior to the assembly of the conference. They hope that the agenda of the conference will in this way be arranged in harmony with the suggestions made the memorandum of the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs of July 8, 1921, bearing on the same subject, in order that the labors of the conference may meet speedily with the fullest measure of successful achievement."

"TIMES" PRICE IS REDUCED.

Delivered by Carrier for 90 Cents Per Month After September First.

Beginning September 1, the subscription price of the Los Angeles Times will be reduced to 90 cents a month, delivered by carrier. While it is actually costing more now to produce the Times than at any time in its history, there is reasonable assurance that the price of white paper will be reduced in the near future. The Times believes that every enterprise dealing with the public should do its share to restore normal price conditions by reducing prices as soon as business conditions warrant. It is therefore making this 15 per cent cut in anticipation of the drop in the cost of its paper, so that its readers may promptly share the saving. Telephone your order to Pico 709 or 10391. San Francisco morning papers are now $1.15 a month, delivered by carrier. In Chicago they are $1.25 a month. The price of the daily and Sunday Times on the street, on news stands and by mail will not be changed at present.

Aviator, Wife Are Arrested on Drug Charge

Sweeping down on a South Spring-street rooming-house, Police Detectives Davis and Johnson early yesterday morning arrested Frank A. Kramer, an aviator, and his wife, Mrs. Virginia Kramer, and charged them with having violated the State poison laws. A quantity of drugs was seized, the arresting officers say.

Inspector Boden of the State Board of Pharmacy stated that he had Kramer under investigation and suspected him of having smuggled the contraband drugs into the country in an airplane.

BILL RAISER SUSPECT IN LAW'S NET.

Former Naval Man Blamed by Secret Service Agents for Flood of Bad Money.

William E. Weeks, a discharged sailor from the Navy, was arrested before U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday on the charge of altering four $2 Federal Reserve Bank notes to $10. The flood of testimony marshaled by Secret Service Agent Hazen, was such that the Commissioner not only held Weeks to the Federal grand jury, but increased his bond from $1500 to $3000. He could not furnish the security.

According to the government agents, Weeks has been the source of all the raised bills that have been recently passed on small dealers, especially among the Japanese in the northern part of the city. With his arrest the counterfeit notes disappeared, they declare. But that continual complaints were being made to Agent Hazen by these business men.

Four bills raised from $2 to $10, were traced to Weeks, Mr. Hazen says, three passed on the keepers of Japanese cigar stands, and one on a Japanese rooming-house—224 Boyd street, where he got $9 in change for the "phony" bill. In the other games he met with a refusal. His favorite scheme of operation was to buy a package of cigarettes, and ask for the change. It is said Weeks accounted for one of the bad notes, by saying that he received it from a Mexican whom he did not know, and had never seen before, as change when he gave him a $20 bill in part payment for a pint of old Taylor whiskey.

Weeks served a term in the Navy, and his discharge shows that he was released last April with a third rating. He has been living in Los Angeles Harbor with his wife, and it is said that he left another woman in Denver, to whom he was married, but who divorced him. Weeks is but 24 years of age.

Beats Kidnaping Charge; Battles to Obtain Tots.

Capt. Fred O. Barker, formerly in the Marine Corps and now an inspector of hulls for the United States Shipping Board, made two appearances in court yesterday. In Judge Toland's court, a charge of kidnaping his son Raymond was dismissed, because the evidence was not sufficient.

In Judge Toland's court he opposed the suit of his former wife, Zola Barker, to obtain custody of their two children. Mrs. Barker, No. 1, told her story in the presence of Mrs. Barker, the second. The recital of her purported wrongs wrought her up so that tears came to her relief. She charges the captain with being morally unfit to have the custody of the children. The case was not concluded yesterday.

Capt. Barker was divorced from wife No. 1 in Portland, Or., March 18, 1911, the case going by default. He was given the custody of one child. He came to Los Angeles January 29 last, and was arrested on the complaint of his former wife on the charge of kidnaping Raymond. His second wife was formerly Lillian M. Howell.

WIDOW OF ACCIDENT VICTIM GETS AWARD.

Mrs. Mayna W. Thorne, widow of Raymond C. Thorne, who was fatally injured in Wilshire Boulevard last January when his automobile turned over, planning him beneath it, was awarded $100 family allowance by Presiding Judge Valentine yesterday.

Mr. Thorne, a Chicago man, died without leaving a will. His widow was appointed administratrix of his estate. The latter was valued at about $100,000. Mrs. Thorne was represented by Attorney W. G. Van Pelt.

Tomlin won 199 out of 200 targets. In the shoot-off at 25 targets, Gilbert missed one target. T. H. Fox of Lynchburg, Va., and Homer Clark, Alton, Ill., turned in scores of 194.

Tilden and Richards Tangle With the Kinseys.

BY FRED HAWTHORNE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BOSTON (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Four teams, William Johnston and Willis B. Davis of California; Richard Norris Williams, II, and Watson M. Washburn, named as the Davis cup doubles team; William T. Tilden, II, and Vincent Richards, former champions, and Robert M. and Howard Kinsey, Pacific Coast champions, all worked their way into the semifinals of the national championship doubles tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club, at Chestnut Hill.

IN UPPER HALF.

Johnston and Davis will meet Williams and Washburn in the upper half of the draw tomorrow afternoon. Tilden and Richards will not play the Kinsey brothers until Friday afternoon. The final round match for the championship is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The women's special invitation singles tourney was advanced to the semifinals round, with three of these brackets filled by Miss Edith Sigourney, Miss Leslie Bancroft and Miss Mary K. Browne. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Eleanor Sears, who are a round behind, will meet tomorrow morning in the struggle to gain the vacant semifinal bracket. The winner of this match will meet Miss Sigourney in the top half, and Miss Bancroft and Miss Browne will clash in the other semifinal match. Miss Marion Fanno, chairman of the women's tournament committee, announced this evening that she plans to stage the final round match Friday morning.

GOOD PROGRESS.

The seven other national title events on the program made substantial progress today and unless rain interferes between now and Saturday everything will be completed on schedule time.

Johnston and Davis took matters fairly easy in their match with M. B. Hutchinson and Charles Sanders, winning by a score of 4-4, 7-5, 6-3. Neither Johnston nor Davis let themselves out to the limit today, but tomorrow when they face Williams and Washburn we ought to see some of the fastest tennis of the week.

The Kinsey brothers, one of the smoothest working teams in the country, came through at the expense of Burnham Dell and Harvey H. Bundy of Longwood. The sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3. Unless Tilden and Richards play better than they have done in the tournament the Kinseys' may spring a great upset when they meet the former champions on Friday afternoon.

PULLS OFF A RECORD ROUND.

Emmett French Makes Golf Superlative Score.

Stunt Breaks Oakwood Club's Seventy-one Par.

Mashie Stars Perform in the Big Tournament.

BY JOE DAVIS.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Seventy-one is par of the 1825-yard course of the Oakwood Club of Cleveland and for eight years it never had been beaten in tournament play. Today it fell and great was the fall thereof as Emmett French of the Youngstown Country Club and captain of the American team which invaded Great Britain, made the round in a superlative 61.

One of the contestants claimed it as an inhuman, but under any classification it will go down as the greatest medal round in the annals of the Western Golf Association and one of the best ever scored in this country.

The stellar performance gave him a lead of four shots over Bob Peabody of Peoria, who was one of the first pair out and came home in 69, and over Robby Jones, the Atlanta amateur, who reported about the luncheon hour with similar figure.

FAMILIAR NAMES.

Close behind these wreckers of par came several players whose names are household in golf circles. Bob MacDonald of Bobolink, Chicago; Mike Brady of Detroit, and Walter Hagen of St. Louis.

It was Hagen's first full round over the course. George Sargent of Columbus, former national champion, and Jack Hobbins of Glenview, Chicago, each had 73 while Joe Kirkwood of Australia, one of the last to finish, had 74.

Jim Barnes, the national open champion, slipped a few putts on the fast greens and finished with 75.

WIND QUIET.

There was barely a breeze stirring when the early pairs got away and with the course in fast condition, the elements could not be used, as so often. McDonald, and French were the first of the big pairs to get out and were followed by a goodly gallery, most of the spectators being sufficiently magnified by the spectacular work of the two men to remain to the finish.

A thirty-foot putt on the first green by the big Scotchman started the fireworks with a birdie 3.

The 418-yard second hole went to French with a drive, a poke and an eight-foot putt. The third hole is 277 yards, and here both landed birdie 3's with fairly long putts. By this time there was a fairly good breeze from the east.

SINKS BIRDIE.

The fifth hole is 140 yards. French sank a four-footer for his birdie. A thirty-foot putt gave McDonald a 3 on the sixth. The sixth hole was the only one at which both had trouble. French had 31 strokes to the turn, setting a new record. The best ball of the pair was 10.

Coming home the team had a boat

Battling for National Mixed-Doubles Tennis Honors.

When it comes to the mixed-doubles title, which is being fought for on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club at Chestnut Hill, it looks like the chance of the rest of the world. California would simply have to win. With the two sterling combinations above playing to notch tennis, appear pretty slim. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, playing with Robert Kinsey, and Mary Browne paired with Bill Johnston, have all successfully eased into the third round of play and are certainly serious contenders for the limelight, headlines and trophies that go to the winners.

Eddie Maier Will Retain Vernon Club.

Ed R. Maier, owner of the Vernon club, appears to have reconsidered his decision of last winter to retire from baseball. A few months ago, when general conditions of baseball were unsatisfactory, Mr. Maier confided in friends that he intended to sell out. Apparently, in the meantime, he has become better satisfied with conditions.

The Vernon club could have been bought for much less last winter than it can now, declared Maier yesterday. "In fact, I and my associates have placed a price on it which we regard as prohibitive."

Which the fans will be glad to construe as a determination to remain in baseball.

CHAPLIN TO VISIT FORMER HOME ABROAD.

By Edwin Schallert.

To see his former friends in England, to return to his one-time home as the conquering hero, and personally to bring his latest comedy to the London public. These are the purposes which apparently have caused Charlie Chaplin suddenly to undertake a trip to Europe. He left Los Angeles yesterday, with the intention of sailing from New York about September 1. He is to be absent from California for about six weeks or two months.

Chaplin has not visited England in six or eight years. During the intervening time he has attained the pinnacle of film fame as a comedian. It is in this role that he will return to his former place of residence. The time is regarded as especially opportune because of the remarkable success of his feature, "The Kid."

The departure of the comedy star was unexpected, although Chaplin had from time to time talked of going abroad. He is accompanied on the trip by Tom Harrington, his secretary, and Charles Robinson, his personal representative. He took with him a print of his new film, "The Idle Class." It is his intention to make any films while abroad, although immediately upon his return, it is stated, he is to commence a new picture.

During his stay in England Chaplin never rose above the ranks of a vaudeville performer of minor success. But in England as well as in this country he is now rated as one of the cleverest film performers.

It is understood that every effort was made to keep the departure of Chaplin as quiet as possible. A party including Syd Chaplin, Samuel Goldwyn, Claire Windsor and others, saw him off at the train.

AMBASSADOR TO BE LITTLE THEATER.

The little-theater movement is to acquire renewed vigor through the undertaking of a number of society people. This movement is notable less than the establishing of the intellectual drama in the Ambassador Theater, which is to be the most important of the one-act little theaters abroad and in New York.

Announcement of this theatrical enterprise was made yesterday. The first opening is set for November 7. Meanwhile the house will be decorated, improved with new scenic equipment and better stage facilities.

All the best one-act plays of such distinguished European dramatists as J. M. Barrie, Lord Dunsany, Bernard Shaw, Pinero, Hauptmann, Galsworthy, and American writers, including the plays of Eugene O'Neill, are to be presented.

Several evening performances starting at 8:45 o'clock, and afternoon performances starting at 2:45 o'clock, will offer most agreeable hours for the fashionable audiences to attend these plays.

Production of the little theater is directed by Mrs. D. D. Shepherd, is director-general. She is a daughter of the late Gen. W. W. Kirkland, has been identified with the little theater movement since the beginning of the World War, having been appointed to represent the District of Columbia at the first hospital in France (the Neuilly). When money had to be raised quickly and in large amounts, Mrs. Shepherd put on productions in Washington to further this end. It was there that Col. Harris, then in charge of the city of Washington, had built for Mrs. Shepherd the little outdoor theater, at the foot of the Washington monument, and which now stands as a memorial to her artistic genius.

Mrs. Caroline Smith has for a number of years been secretary and personal representative of W. A. Clark, Jr., and of the Philharmonic Orchestra and Philharmonic Auditorium.

Mrs. Charles Jeffries, who, since the opening of the Ambassador Hotel, has assumed the duties of the little theater, will be social director for the theater.

A partial list of the advisory board included William M. Garland, Walter P. Story, W. A. Clark, Jr., William J. Dodd, Ferdinand R. Bohn, Frank M. Mott, H. Flint, Trowbridge Hall, William C. de Mille, Rupert Hughes, Thompson Buchanan, J. M. E. Fisher, Mrs. Harcourt Banning, Mrs. Harry Lombard, Mrs. Q. M. Boardman and L. E. Behrmer, chairman.

Fairbanks-Pickford Rumor. A somewhat woolly rumor has been going the rounds in New York, that Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are planning to go on the spoken drama stage. It is, however, that this report has arisen chiefly from the fact that several theatrical managers have tendered offers to the stars, neither of whom has accepted any offer or intention of invading the footlight realm.

Names Coogan Film. A name has been selected for Jackie Coogan's next picture production, and it is "The Boy Who Wasn't." It is credited with the suggestion that carried the day. It had almost been decided to produce the story with only a temporary title, but it happened that when the plot was recounted to Mr. Coogan, he suddenly exclaimed—"My boy."

"How's that for a title?" he queried.

The name submitted to Jack Coogan, Lou Lesser and Victor Heerman, and these unanimously decided on using it.

As Dana Lead. Greta Garbo is to play in "Glass House," which, without being factitious, is to say that he has been engaged to support Viola Dana in a special production of that name. This is the leading man's second appearance with the star. He previously appeared in the Bayard Vetter picture, "There Are No Villains."

Pam "Anastasia's Affairs." A flash from the East says that Cecil B. De Mille's film, "The Affairs of Anatol," has been approved by the Chicago board of censors.

In Lyle Feature. Virginia Valli has been engaged to play the leading role opposite Bert Lyle in "The Right That Failed," which is to start filming

New Stories Outlined for Miss Stewart.

Anita Stewart's next two starring films will be "Rose O' the Sea," by Countess Baryczka, and "The Woman He Married," by Herbert Bashford.

It is also announced that Miss Stewart intends to terminate her vacation in the East shortly, returning to the Mayer studio by the middle of September or October 1 at the latest.

The order in which the two pictures will be made has not yet been decided, but both stories have been turned over to the Mayer editorial staff and are now being adapted. Made Tyrone, who edited "The Child Thou Gavest Me" and wrote the scenario for "Habit" and "The Invisible Fear," is working on the script of "Rose O' the Sea." The film version of "The Woman He Married" is being prepared by Josephine Quirk, who scenarized Anita Stewart's last two stories, "Her Mad Bargain" and "A Question of Honor."

Countess Baryczka, author of "The Honey Pot," "Love Mazzy" and "Sally Jane," is noted as a writer of romantic, adventurous stories. Her "Rose O' the Sea" has been circulated both in this country and abroad.

In "The Woman He Married," Herbert Bashford produced a play that proved a novelty upon its production in New York. After a long stay in Los Angeles, Virginia Harwood as the star, it made a tour of the country.

KING MEETS EDITH IN "LURING LIPS."

There's a divinity that shapes our coincidences. Shakespeare did not say this exactly, but we do. Listen to the true tale of two stars and "Luring Lips."

King Baggot directed "Luring Lips" out on the Universal lot. Edith Roberts has the leading role. They met ten years ago, and now they have met again.

Ten years ago Edith Roberts was 10. She lived in New York, and next door to her lived the idol of her heart, her favorite leading man of the day, King Baggot himself. He did not know that she was so madly worshiped. But one day he found out.

The one woman in the world that the little Miss Roberts envied with a jealous envy was her King's leading lady. So she began to pretend that she was that lady. On a certain sunny morning in May, King Baggot, happening to look over the fence that protected his early vocation, saw Edith and a few of her mates in "Luring Lips." The boy around the corner was taking Baggot's part, and Edith was the heroine of Frank Lawrence, film editor-in-chief.

In that childish production Edith Roberts "sold the idea" to King Baggot that she could act. The very next day she was taken to the studio and given a part in his picture—though not exactly the lead.

In the years that followed they were separated, each winning honors. Edith Roberts has been a featured player in Universal productions for over two years. King Baggot was recently given directorial powers and assigned to "Luring Lips." Miss Roberts' latest picture, "The Picture of the Queen," is the Superba next week.

The little girl of 10, now a dramatic star of 20, is exceedingly happy to resume her old chum directed her best picture.

CLERK DESERTS THE "QUEEN OF SHEBA."

If you are asked why clerks leave desks, a safe answer to make, nine times out of ten, is "The motion picture." For it's not only the pretty maid who sighs for the glare of the Klieg—the stalwart youth is also a moth near the flame.

But one young man of Los Angeles asked for and found a desk, with the fixed resolve to stay there. He tried pictures, and he's cured. He aspired to be a star, but his career was that of a rocket.

When the opening performance of "The Queen of Sheba" takes place at the Philharmonic Auditorium September 5, this young man will watch it with more than the usual interest. For in it is shown the beginning and the end of his motion-picture career.

The young man, who is of a superb athletic figure, and who, in his own home town has the reputation of being an amateur actor of considerable merit, is a picture career beckoned him. He came to Los Angeles from a little eastern city and applied to J. Gordon Edwards, then shooting "The Queen of Sheba" on the Fox lot in Hollywood.

"You will make a fine captain of the queen's court," said the director. Later, to his own intense enjoyment, the fledgling actor found himself garbed in the fantastic robes of a warrior of Sheba's remote period.

But his first day's shooting took him out on location and into the desert, where, amidst a huge double-camel, he led his strange cohorts. All day, under a blistering sun, he was rocked to and fro, while the cameramen ground merrily away. Twice he suffered from sun-sickness. Night found him weather-beaten, sore and weary.

Another day of the same grueling and followed—and then there was a captain of the queen's guard missing. Three days later he got his "inside job" at a desk, and also "enough of the pictures."

"Those who like me may have it," he later announced, "but it's too strenuous a life for me."

"RUBAIYAT" STUDIES. A private exhibition of 100 photographic studies by Edward S. Curtis, illustrating the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, will be given by Mr. Curtis at his studio, 448 South Broadway, Tuesday afternoon and evening. Wednesday, and the remainder of the week, the exhibition will be open to the public. Mr. Curtis' camera studies of the story of the Persian poet-philosopher are "pictures of the picture," the production which Ferdinand Earle, the portrait and landscape artist, is preparing for the screen. The production excels in pictorial values, it is said, and in addition to expensive settings, hundreds of scenes that have the appearance of reality and in which living characters appear, are actually paintings.

MONEYLESS TOURISTS STRANDED IN LONDON. LONDON, Aug. 24.—Lured apparently by reports of the cheapness of everything in Europe, an extraordinary number of American tourists have come to England this year for their holiday, or even for their return home.

No less than 300 stranded Americans, who were total strangers in this country, have sought the relief of the London chapter of the American Red Cross. Most of them had simply run out of money, having come over with an exaggerated idea of the purchasing power of the dollar.

Besides these casual travelers who have no excuse for their condition except improvidence, 200 American visitors are on the books of the Red Cross as being stranded and destitute because of illness, and a further 182 were stranded and in distress owing to their failure to provide themselves with either American passports or birth certificates.

TELLS OF GOLD RUSH. Edward Laemmle, directing Art Acord, the Universal cowboy star in "Winners of the West," is planning a serial, has returned to Universal City to film the concluding episode. The first part of the story was staged near the Chatsworth Mountains, and now the young director is at Universal City to do the interior. The story was written by Ford Beebe and is a graphic account of the trip of Capt. John Fremont from Missouri to the California gold fields.

MAN ACCUSED OF SLAYING PRIEST MAKES STATEMENT TO OFFICERS.

REDFORD CITY, Aug. 24.—William A. Hightower, chief of Police of San Francisco and other officials today that he would have no witnesses at his trial for the murder of Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, a Catholic priest of Colma.

"I'll go with no one but myself to depend upon," he said, according to Chief O'Brien. "Far better to have no witnesses than bad ones. The game is up with me and I am ready to meet the rope. The landlady came when I was taken into custody at Salda Beach."

He was questioned by O'Brien, Captain of Detectives Matheson of San Francisco, and Dist. Atty. Swart of San Mateo county regarding the identity of witnesses supposed to be in the vicinity of the murder. The priest was killed at Salda Beach, but refused to give any names.

Chief O'Brien said he had received important information at 4 o'clock this morning that caused him to send out men immediately. He also said that a Greek in the San Francisco County Hospital was questioned regarding the murder. The man named "Dolly," supposed to have been the Dolly Mason told of by the priest, but that the Greek's information did not seem to be of any value.

FEDERAL ATTORNEY TO BE DENIED MEMBERSHIP THROUGHOUT STATE.

YOSMITE, Aug. 24.—The State executive committee of California Department, American Legion, today recommended to the convention held here that Thomas L. Lennon, former assistant, United States District Attorney at San Francisco, be not admitted to Legion membership in California. The convention accepted the report. The action was taken in connection with a telegram, alleged to have been forged, sent from Chicago to San Francisco, withdrawing the name of a candidate for office in the San Francisco post.

The executive committee in reporting its investigation said S. F. Ridgeway of San Francisco was the author of the forged telegram. But his first day's shooting took him out on location and into the desert, where, amidst a huge double-camel, he led his strange cohorts. All day, under a blistering sun, he was rocked to and fro, while the cameramen ground merrily away. Twice he suffered from sun-sickness. Night found him weather-beaten, sore and weary.

Another day of the same grueling and followed—and then there was a captain of the queen's guard missing. Three days later he got his "inside job" at a desk, and also "enough of the pictures."

"Those who like me may have it," he later announced, "but it's too strenuous a life for me."

Rats in Basement Cause Hunt

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
PASADENA, Aug. 24.—The Lincoln transcontinental highway is in poor shape this year, at least east of Omaha, declared Charles E. Thomson of Brooklyn today on his arrival here after an 800-mile motor journey from his home town. Mr. Thomson was not a member of that Brooklyn caravan of automobiles bound for Idaho. He is touring for pleasure. But he found the Lincoln highway so bad that he left it at Omaha and the way west, and struck off for the Canadian Rockies, returning to the United States by way of Spokane. "What I saw of the Lincoln highway was a joke," he said. "The highway was built away from the towns and I guess there is lack of co-operation of the cities toward the highway. There have been better highways than the Lincoln highway."

MAN WHO DID MUCH FOR REDLANDS IS VICTIM OF HEART TROUBLE.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
REDLANDS, Aug. 24.—Willard A. Nichols, 77 years old, pioneer resident of Redlands, engineer and orange grove and shipper, secretary of the Fortnightly Club and the board of trustees of the A. K. Smiley library, died at his home on Park avenue last evening. The circumstances of his death were almost prophetic in their character. He was sitting in his chair when suddenly he called "Hello, hello." He got up and started to the door. He answered, "Some one is calling me." He answered again and when Mrs. Nichols told him no one was calling, he looked at her as if she did not understand. Suddenly he sank to the floor and died immediately.

A heart weakened by heavy attacks of asthma caused his death. He was a native of Maine and attended school in Cambridge. He graduated from Exeter and from the board of trustees of the Fortnightly Club. He worked with corporations in Canada, Maine and New Brunswick and then opened offices as consulting engineer in New York, which he conducted for twenty years, giving it up because of his health. He came here in 1890, purchased twenty acres of land on West Park avenue and set it to oranges. He built a residence and Mrs. and Mrs. E. N. James came to live with him. He never married and the James family became very near to him.

Mr. Nichols was the secretary and guiding genius of the Fortnightly Club, a men's literary and scientific club of the city. He was secretary of the Redlands Mutual Orange Company from the time it was formed about fifteen years ago. Mr. Nichols came here seeking relief from asthma. Last year he had several serious attacks and a nephew was with him most of the winter. He leaves a twin sister in Maine.

Subscription Rate

Los Angeles Times

Reduced to 90c
Per Month

Delivered by Carrier

(Beginning September 1)

—Largest newspaper in the world—admittedly one of the six paramount journals of America—
“a library in itself”.

The full significance of this reduction can be appreciated only by remembering that the former subscription rate of THE TIMES—$1.05 per month—was one of the marvels of journalism. Essentially the LOS ANGELES TIMES is many publications in one.

At 90c per month subscribers receive not only an unparalleled newspaper every morning in the week but on Sundays without extra cost they get the equivalent of eight or ten high-grade periodicals.

The LOS ANGELES TIMES prints a greater quantity of special articles by eminent writers, thinkers, travelers and scientists than any other newspaper in western America. It maintains, in conjunction with Chicago Tribune and New York Times, a world-wide corps of correspondents whose reports are received over the fastest wire-system in the country. It is the only California newspaper having two leased continental wires.
It also furnishes readers full news service of Associated Press.

THE TIMES is the only Pacific Coast newspaper operating its own rotogravure equipment, and is the only newspaper in America furnishing a home-produced story magazine and a home-produced agricultural magazine, all at no extra cost.

It is a clean newspaper, free from sensationalism, speaking from the heart, and with the courage of its convictions.

It is owned in, edited in, printed in, and devoted to — Southern California.

'Tis said that at the present time a reduction in the subscription price of newspapers is virtually an impossibility. So be it; however, the doing of impossibilities is all part of the day's work in the office of the world's largest newspaper.

A Great Announcement
Yet to Come

*The price of the daily and Sunday Times on the street, on news stands and by mail will not be changed at present. A recent increase of 25 per cent in the postal rate covering second-class matter makes a reduction in mail subscription rates unwarranted now.

FLOOD MAROONS MANY FAMILIES.

Imperial Valley Folk Pass Night on Roofs.

Railroad and State Highway Badly Damaged.

Woman and Child Saved by Climbing Haystack.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH.)

EL CENTRO, Aug. 24.—Densities of families are temporarily homeless, hundreds of others are without drinking water, much rich farm land is inundated and the San Diego and Arizona Railroad and the State highway between Seelye and Dixieland are badly damaged as the result of a cloudburst yesterday several miles west of Dixieland.

The rain was the heaviest ever known in Imperial Valley. It came during the storm which was general throughout the valley and because of the immense downpour and the suddenness with which it came several families were unable to get away from their homes, and took refuge on top of the buildings and on haystacks where they were forced to remain until daylight today. All of those who were marooned by the flood reached high ground unscathed with the exception of one woman and a small child who spent the night on a haystack on an isolated farm several miles below the State highway and southwest of Seelye. Today's estimates of the

SOUTHLAND WINS PRAISE.

A letter of thanks to the All-Year Club of Southern California for its advertising of the summer attractions of the Southland, came yesterday from a recent visitor here. The writer of the letter, Alphonse Goldsmith, is a prominent New Orleans advertising man. Writing under date of the 19th inst. to the All-Year Club, he said:

"I note with a great deal of interest your advertisement running in the New Orleans Item, entitled 'A New Summer Wonderland.'"

"I have just returned from a three weeks' visit to Southern California, and am glad to be able to state that the trip was a very enjoyable one, and I look forward to being able to come back to Southern California again at some near-future time."

"You have, indeed, a Land of Paradise, and the promises held forth by your advertisement will be fully realized by everyone who will make the trip to Southern California."

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to write this, and the reading of the advertisement referred to brings back to mind memories of the very pleasant trip I had."

In making public Mr. Goldsmith's letter yesterday, the directors of the All-Year Club gave it as best possible evidence of the fact that Southern California not only had something worth while advertising, but that as well visitors who knew the section appreciated the spreading of the facts.

losses place the aggregate amount well up into six figures.

RAILROAD BROKEN.

The storm broke on the desert and for several hours the water raced across the land to the south and east to the railway embankment and the West Side main canal. A short distance east of Dixieland the railroad and ditch banks held back the flood for a time but the latter were soon washed away by the immense volume of water and the culverts under the railroad proved inadequate to permit the passage of the flood and they too gave way and left hundreds of feet of the rails and ties suspended in mid air.

In many places the earth was washed from under the pavement on the State highway and in some places today only about three or four feet of earth supports the wide pavement, making travel over it very hazardous. The pavement is under water for a mile and a quarter about half way between Seelye and Dixieland and the farms for several miles both north and south of the highway are covered with water from six inches to three feet deep.

Many motorists were stalled in the flood last night when their cars ran off the pavement in the flooded area, and some trucks towed twelve to Seelye. In order to be sure of remaining on the highway the truck driver drove very slowly behind a boy carrying a lantern to show the edge of the pavement. Early this morning the pavement was covered with stakes and with one or two exceptions no cars have become stalled today although hundreds have passed through the flooded area.

FLOOD RECEDES.

When the flood was at its peak last night the water was five feet deep on the level ground in some places but Salt Creek carried it away rapidly and at midnight the flood was receding. Most of the highest land was drained and the water is still going down, but it is believed that it will be several days before all of the land will be above water. On almost every farm in the flooded area chickens, turkeys and hogs were all drowned but none of the other stock is reported to have been lost.

Train service on the San Diego and Arizona Railroad was discontinued yesterday afternoon and passengers from the eastbound train were brought to this city from Coyote Wells in automobiles which traveled through deep water. Engineers and two work trains with hay mowers were sent to the scene of the flood yesterday and although they worked frantically all night they made but little headway against the water.

Estimates of the length of time required in which to complete the reconstruction work have not been completed, but the local railroad office reports that it will be at least two days before even temporary repairs can be made and that it may be several days before the regular train schedules will be resumed.

JEWEL CASES FOUND.

Thirty Thousand in Goods Stolen at Harbor Still Missing.

Cases that had contained the thousands of dollars worth of sample jewelry stolen at Los Angeles Harbor from R. M. Nelson, a jewelry salesman of San Francisco, late Tuesday afternoon, were discovered by the police yesterday afternoon in Griffith Park. All the receptacles were empty. One missing.

The jewelry was stolen with Mr. Nelson's automobile which he left the latter standing in front of a jewelry store at the Harbor. The automobile was recovered.

REYBARRA DENIES THAT HE URGED COTTON TAX.

Gov. Teasdale of the Northern District of Lower California in a letter to The Times denies that he had advocated an export tax on seed cotton. He says that "by the request of a certain company" he merely had asked the Camera Agricola and the Agricultural Chamber of Commerce for an expression about the proposition, but that he in no way recommended it. Such a tax, he says, could be applied only by the Federal Mexican government.

W. H. BOWDEN FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY.

Funeral services for William Hamilton Bowden, who died Sunday, will be conducted this afternoon at Inglewood Park Cemetery. Rev. F. C. Watson, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Inglewood, of which Mr. Bowden was a member, will officiate. The Inglewood Woman's Club will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowden came here fourteen years ago from Cincinnati where he was in business. They lived many years in Inglewood, but three years ago moved to 167 South Commonwealth avenue. Mr. Bowden was a member of the City Club.

He leaves a widow and two brothers, J. A. Bowden of Los Angeles and R. A. Bowden of Carlsbad, and a sister, Mrs. J. L. Benedict of Chandler, Okla.

GROCERS MEAT DEALERS TO HAVE OUTING TODAY.

All the members of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association, which includes meat dealers, will close their stores today for the annual picnic of the organization at the Pickering Pleasure Pier, Ocean Park. An elaborate program of sports and music has been arranged by the various committees in charge.

One of the big features will be a barbecue. Among the speakers will be J. L. McMunn, president of the organization, William Clifton, president of the Meat Dealers' Association, and Mayor Berkeley.
